MAINTAINING YOUR CERTIFICATION

ServiceMax credentials represent knowledge and expertise. Maintaining a ServiceMax credential ensures that administrators are continuously developing skills and keeping their knowledge of the product current. Periodically, ServiceMax releases new or updated features to our field service software. In accordance with these updates, all ServiceMax Product Certified Professionals are required to maintain their certification by taking a maintenance exam with each release cycle.

- Training videos + maintenance exam
- $0 for certified ServiceMax admins
